SDS subsidiary Riaktr receives an order for a pilot project from a leading operator in Portugal

Through its recently acquired subsidiary Riaktr, Seamless Distribution Systems AB (SDS) has received an order for a pilot project regarding the roll-out of a 5G network from a leading mobile operator in Portugal.

The project covers Riaktr's Smart Capex solution that can optimize the operator's 5G expansion plan from an economic, technical, and business perspective. The operator will be able to create the most efficient 5G network investments thanks to Riaktr's advanced analysis and AI through a very simple and user-friendly interface.

5G expansion is today a very strategic initiative for telecom operators and Riaktr's Smart Capex solution has already shown significant cost savings and efficiency increases of between 10 and 20%. It is therefore an important strategic advantage for the operators to choose Riaktr's system as the cost of the operator's 5G investment is in the EUR 100 million level and above.

- It is strategically important for SDS that Riaktr has received this Pilot project for 5G in Portugal. Partly because we are now working with the latest technology and that if we are successful in Portugal, it opens additional great opportunities for Riaktr and SDS in Europe ", says Tommy Eriksson, CEO of SDS

The initial order covers the costs of the pilot project and if Riaktr is successful, the operator will place a full order on the Smart Capex system when the pilot project is completed.
