CEO's comments

Stable sales and all-time high EBITDA despite Covid challenges

A year with continued strong growth in profitability

We can look back on a 2021 characterized by great and important progress for our offering and our technology. At the same time, we experienced a slow-down in demand as a result of Covid. Revenues for the full year landed at SEK 288 million. The Covid impact in SDS and SDD was offset by the acquisition of Riaktr, which contributes with 8-month sales. At the same time, we have continued our very strong EBITDA growth and land at the highest ever; SEK 70 million, an increase of 40% from the previous year.

A quarter with important and successful customer projects

The fourth quarter in isolation meant sales of SEK 79 million and EBITDA at the same high level as in the third quarter; SEK 20 million. During the quarter, a number of important projects were carried out with both new and existing customers. Our new customer Vodafone Oman went live with our complete offering RVM (Retail Value Management) based on our new technology architecture Microservices - also in a new SaaS model. In the migration work from eServe's old platform to ERS360, the largest and most complex migration was carried out successfully and completely without complications at DU in Dubai. We have also received renewed, long-term trust from our largest customer, as well as an approval to gradually introduce our new solutions throughout the group. New orders received in the quarter included our new customer in Ghana which had an order value of SEK 3.0 million, a new customer for Riaktr in Congo - an example of the synergy effect of the acquisition - and additional orders from DU Dubai, Zain Saudi and to an existing customer in Sudan.

Stable platform to start from

It is with satisfaction that I, as the newly appointed CEO, can ascertain that the company has built a very good platform to take further steps on our continued journey. The underlying market growth for increased mobile use is enormous in the markets the company focuses on. Our solutions are business-critical for mobile operators as a very large part of their revenue flows through our systems. With our strengthened portfolio, I see great opportunities both to attract new customers and to increase our revenues from existing customers.

With its new, comprehensive and comprehensive offering, Retail Value Management, the company is very well positioned in the shift that all telecom operators are undergoing today when they go from managing networks to managing so-called end-to-end solutions.

The product portfolio has been significantly broadened through both acquisitions and the redefinition and development of our existing offering. The acquisition of the big data analysis company Riaktr in May 2021 means that we have new contact surfaces with the operators at the highest management level. The expanded customer base through the acquisition also creates opportunities for us to reach new operator groups with our total offering, of which Orange is an example. The combined offering of SDS and Riaktr's portfolios is unique and makes us very strong in the market.

The transition to new technology architecture in the form of Microservices in 2021 was a strategically very important decision. Thanks to the investment in the very latest technology, we will be able to scale up more efficiently. These include being able to launch new services faster, reduce maintenance costs and shorten implementation times for customers. Independent surveys also show that more and more operator groups themselves are moving towards Microservices and have thus begun to have this as an important selection criterion when choosing suppliers. Here, my employees have been foresighted and taken this important technological step early.

The customer base has been significantly expanded through organic growth and the well-executed acquisitions of eServ and Riaktr. Geographically, SDS has in the last 5 years gone from 12 markets and a few operators to today handle 60 markets and about 70 operator customers. In addition to some of Africa's and the world's largest operator groups, after 2021 we can also include Vodafone, Orange and Telenor as customers with great growth potential for SDS. Both the sales and technology organization have well-established, appreciated and open relationships with our customers.

All in all, I can state that we are on a very strong platform in terms of offer, technology and customer base to take further steps in the market.

Great opportunities ahead of us

The company's strategy going forward is firm. We will continue to grow organically with new and existing customers and we want to participate in the consolidation that has begun. This requires that we focus on creating scalability in technology and business models. SDS has built much of its success on being responsive to customers' wishes, which has resulted in many customer-unique projects. We will continue to be responsive in the future, but in order to take further steps, we must also become more proactive in both product development and sales. With the addition of Riaktr, the opportunities for us to not only follow the market but also to shape it increase.

With Vodafone Oman, we have taken an important step towards offering our services in a new SaaS business model - an area we need to develop further and which offers great opportunities. The integration of Riaktr was well-balanced in 2021. 2022 will be the year when we will capitalize on the joint strength we have created with SDS and Riaktr. Partnerships are becoming increasingly important to always be relevant and invited - here we must ensure the right alliances. Fintech is another exciting area in the future. SDS is already active with two offers, MFS (Mobile Wallet) and Microcredit, to a number of operators. In 2022, we will investigate how we can further develop these offerings together with our customers.

2021 meant great progress, but also challenges. Investments in technology, product portfolio and projects squeezed cash flow. At the same time, we have identified a number of exciting, organic growth initiatives that we want to realize in the near future. These will improve cash flow over time.

Because SDS delivers systems that provide instant access to huge amounts of data, we see emerging trends in real time. We can therefore already now see tendencies that the market is on its way out of the inhibitory effects of Covid. Even if we are not to underestimate the remaining effects and the time for adjustment, I look forward with great confidence to 2022.

Financial overview

Januari - december 2021

NET SALES

Net sales for the twelve months of the year amounted to SEK 288,187 (295,609) thousand, a decrease of 2.5% compared with the same period last year. Riaktr contributes SEK 29,663 thousand to the total net sales. Other operating income amounted to SEK 15,252 (8,819) thousand.

The decrease during the twelve months of the year is mainly explained by SDD's reduced sales of approximately SEK 21 million compared with the same period last year. SDS entered the year 2021 without a strong backlog of orders, which contributed to a decrease in net sales during the first two quarters of 2021.

The company's business model means that major projects affect revenues and earnings between quarters.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Operating expenses for the twelve months of the year amounted to SEK -276,066 (-282,970) thousand, a decrease of 2.4% compared with the same period last year. From the date of acquisition, the newly acquired subsidiary Riaktr's operating costs are included in the total.

As a result of the decline in sales compared with the same period last year, SDD's material costs have decreased and contribute to the total decrease for the year. In addition, SDS has continuously worked with cost efficiency and savings during the year.

Associated bond costs of SEK 9,914 thousand are accrued back at the same rate as the loan's maturity of three years and go over accounts for interest costs. During the year, an issue was also carried out in which existing shareholder loans of SEK 44.2 million were converted into shares. Acquisition

Riaktr

Real Impact Analytics S.A. ("Riaktr") was founded in 2009 with the goal of contributing to the digital transformation within telecommunications companies by offering customized data and analysis solutions (within Business Intelligence "BI" and Big Data Analytics "BDA"). Today, Riaktr has two proprietary analysis tools, Smart Sales & Distribution; a market-leading recommendation engine for sales and distribution teams, and Smart Capex; a software solution for optimizing network investment planning for 5G and Fiber, among others. Riaktr is a reliable partner for approximately 1,500 users of world-leading telecom operators. With the acquisition of Riaktr, Orange, one of the world's largest telecom operators, is now part of the customer base with ten active regional contracts. Just over 80 percent of Riaktr's revenues come from telecom operators in Africa, which fits perfectly with SDS' existing customer base.

The acquisition has strengthened SDS's operational efficiency by Riaktr adding complementary products, as well as a major development and technology center in Belgium focused on BI and BDA. The acquisition expanded SDS's geographical coverage and customer base with, among other things, several large, global and regional telecom operators. With this acquisition, we further strengthened our presence in Africa and also reach additional new customers in Europe and South America.

The acquisition has contributed to a higher strategic level in terms of the Group's value chain, technology, customer base and geographical coverage. SDS and Riaktr together have over 35 years of experience in the development, delivery and operation of large-scale systems with operational activities in over 60 countries. The acquisition meant that we could continue and deliver on our planned growth and profitability journey.

Since the acquisition, Riaktr has continued to do business at the same pace as before with an order from a leading mobile operator in Nigeria and an order from Smart Capex for a pilot project regarding the roll-out of a 5G network from a leading mobile operator in Portugal, among other things.

Since joining in May, the joint operations have achieved significant synergies through higher efficiency in product development as well as economies of scale in sales, support and administrative units. The acquisition has contributed to improved efficiency and increased visibility in the market. Since the acquisition, we have made successful reductions in operating costs in the order of EUR 600,000 and we look forward to further effects that are expected in 2022. Furthermore, we have seen that Smart Capex attracts great attention and interest from our customers and takes us to new exciting meetings at customers' absolute highest level of management.

Riaktr's sales for 2021 amounted to EUR 3.8 million, of which EUR 2.6 million is recurring SaaS revenue, and an adjusted EBITDA result of EUR 1.8 million. This is a downward revision of sales from the interim report for the second quarter, which can be attributed to the fact that two major orders have been postponed. Of this, EUR 2.9 and EUR 1.6 contributed to SDS sales and EBITDA for 2021. For 2022, we have a forecast turnover of EUR 4.4 million and an EBITDA of EUR 2.4 million.
