Urb-it sustainable delivery services available through market leading delivery management platform

Urb-it, the rapidly growing sustainable logistics platform, is pleased to announce it has integrated with a market leading delivery management platform. This provides major e-commerce businesses throughout Europe access to Urb-it's sustainable last mile delivery services.

The platform connects stores, warehouses and shipping locations with carriers and service providers, connecting businesses with delivery and service networks that improve efficiency and quality throughout the delivery process. Working with several of the world's leading e-commerce brands, the platform provides access to logistics service providers covering first mile, last mile, city deliveries, returns and locker services.

Kevin Kviblad, CEO of Urb-it said:

"We are excited about the growth opportunities this development provides Urb-it with as our services are now available for additional leading brands operating in verticals that are critical to our growth strategy.

"Consumers are increasingly demanding for their parcels to be delivered sustainably - and Urban Access Regulations across Europe's cities are increasing to address pollution and congestion challenges. We look forward to partnering with new clients enabled through this integration and providing their consumers with a truly customer-centric, sustainable last mile delivery experience."
